How To Solve SAMPLE PUZZLE

CLUE No. 1: THE "HOOSIER" STATE

+ ONEA −

− K = [ ]

You will see there are a SINK, a DIAL, the SOLE of a shoe and various letters of the alphabet. There are two plus and two minus signs. It is necessary to add and subtract the names and letters as shown by the plus and minus signs. First, write down SINK. Then, add DIAL to it. Next, add ONEA. All this equals SINKDIALONEA. Now, you must subtract the letters in SOLE and K. When this is done you are left with INDIANA. Indiana is the Hoosier State, so the result checks with Clue No. 1.

LOVE IN ARMS

LORNA TENNEY'S slim form poised at the end of the diving board of Middlestate's big co-ed swimming pool, hesitating for just an instant. Below her, watching, attentive, stood Joe Rogan, foreman of the contracting crew that had put the finishing touches to the pool only a few days before.

Her heart skipped a beat. Joe, she decided, was the handsomest man she'd ever known, handsomer even than Bill Norrell, Middlestate's swimming coach. And Joe, she knew, was even more admiring.

Then she started her dive. Through the clear, transparent air she went down in a smooth curve and disappeared beneath the sapphire-blue waters almost without a ripple. When she came up, Joe, bending over the steel exit-stairway, gave her a hand out.

"Swell form," he said. "Too good for an amateur dump like this."

"If I really thought you meant that, Joe," she said excitedly, "Why I'd . . ."

"You'd take my advice and sign up with that professional group," he said decisively. "You're wasting your time here, Lorna. With swimming talent like yours you could make plenty—but only if you do it in time."

"That means I'd have to give up swimming in the last intercollegiate meet," she mused.

"So what?" Joe said. "You ought to be grateful for the opportunity. What will those dubs do for you? You're entitled to make a lot of money for yourself. And I wouldn't say it if I didn't know you could do it. I've done a lot of work for professional syndicates in swimming—and I ought to know! Going around the country building these pools gives me a good look-see in at the talent. That's why the syndicate trusts me." He looked at her levelly. "Sure I make extra dough that way. Why not? I'm not ashamed of it. It's honest money acting as talent scout while I have my eyes open to begin with."

Lorna decided she liked Joe's candidness. And it was true he ought to know what he was talking about. He ought to know even better than Bill Norrell who was a swimming coach. Her lip curled as she remembered Bill's opinion — Bill who had even said he loved her, when she'd asked him whether he thought she could be a real world champion. He'd thought seriously and shaken his head.

"If there's one thing I'm perfectly serious about it's my own profession," Bill had said. "You're one of the best swimmers Middlestate's teams ever had. But — you're not championship material, Lorn. You'd shine bright for a while, but it takes stamina. You've got the will to win, but, well — everybody has their limitations, and as your coach I don't think you have the wind."

She remembered how cold his remarks had left her. And yet, she knew he thought he'd been honest. But he'd had no faith in her—and Joe had. Joe really appreciated her, she realized.

"You'd have to leave college real soon," Joe said.

"Maybe I will, Joe," she replied. "In fact I think I . . . oh, Bill!"

Bill Norrell, in swimming trunks, stood there suddenly, smiling.

"Glad you're training, Lorn," he said. "We've got plenty to do before . . ."

"I'm leaving college, Bill," Lorna said. "I'm not participating in the last meet. Joe's convinced me I'd do better as a professional."

"Sure, and there might even be a Hollywood offer eventually," Joe said with assurance. "It often happens."

Bill ignored him.

"You're running out on your team mates, Lorna," he said. "And you're running out on me. I—thought we'd be seeing a lot of each other from now on, working closer together."

"You — you know I'd love that, Bill," she replied. "But I do have to think of myself, too." Her voice suddenly sharpened. "And I don't think I'm running out on anybody. After all, you told me yourself I wasn't a champion, a world beater. You can replace me easily."

Bill looked at her gravely.

"Yes, I told you that. It's the truth. Maybe you just can't get used to it. But you're a fine swimmer anyway, a swimmer Middlestate can be proud of . . ."

"Not any more," she said.

Bill looked at her again for just half a moment. Then he turned on his heel and left.

"Come on," Joe said. "Get dressed. Meet me at my place at seven and I'll have a contract ready."

"All right," she said, and watched Joe depart. Then, slowly, she walked toward the showers. She knew she'd hurt Bill, but after all, she remember, he'd hurt her. Joe, she recalled, had faith in her. And Joe was attractive, in the bargain. Bill was all right, but Joe was better. A woman wanted to be appreciated for what she knew was her best. And Lorna smiled past the hurt on her face.

At seven, after supper, she left the dormitory and walked downtown to the small, college town hotel where Joe Rogan lived. In the lobby, as she entered, she saw Joe and her heart quickened. Then, as he moved, she saw the woman.

The woman was middle-sized, attractive and well-dressed, but her face was fixed on Joe's with an intensity of expression that astonished Lorna.

"You got what you wanted, didn't you?" Lorna heard Joe say angrily. "Now clear out!"

The woman paused helplessly, looked at him for a moment, then turned.

"Oh, Lorna," Joe said, smiling suddenly as he caught sight of her. His eyes narrowed as Lorna's followed the woman. "Oh, her," he began. "Just a pest."

"She looks tired," Lorna observed. "Even though she is well-dressed."

"She's better heeled than you are," Joe said. "Come on over to this booth. I've brought the contract."

Lorna glanced at the woman again as she and Joe walked over to a booth. A queer pang struck at her heart. She'd seen her face somewhere before, but — where, Lorna asked herself.

They sat down. Joe took her hand and held it for a moment. Her heart thrilled a little, then it slowed and an odd feeling of emptiness went through her.

"You can sign here," Joe said, producing a pen. "Then you open in the city in two weeks for demonstration work. Of course, you'll be making more dough in a year than now, but..." He paused. "Say, what's the matter?"

She was staring, wide-eyed, across the lobby at the wall.

"Lorna — what's wrong?"

"Give me your pen," she said. When she took it, she scratched it down the contract sheet contemptuously, obliterating lines of print. Then she crumpled it and tossed it into an ashtray.

"You're backing out?" he demanded.

"I've been a fool, Joe Rogan," Lorna said defiantly. Her eyes, steely, fixed his. "Now I know who that woman was who was talking to you. It's Margaret Lee. There's her picture on the wall over there, along with other college athletes, along with mine. She left Middlestate before I came, and I never remembered her—until I realized she was connected with you!"

"So what?" Joe Rogan demanded, but his hands shook. "She got a good year's work in, in professional swimming. She's made dough!"

"I'm not against honest professional swimming groups," Lorna said bitterly. "Just four-flushers, like you and your kind! I read just the other day she'd developed a bad heart overstraining it at professional work, work she was warned against by doctors, work she took because it promised plenty of money. I see it made her some, but now she's worn out!"

"Aw, she wants too much!" Joe growled, a look in his eyes.

Lorna stood up; she hadn't seen that look of greediness before.

"I can guess the rest. She came to you for help, more work, Joe. But your group couldn't use her any more, could they, after they'd lied her into giving up her premed education as a doctor, education she can't continue with, now!"

"What do you care about people like her?" Joe grunted.

"I do care," Lorna said firmly. "Because I've found out, right now, how important it is to care for someone who really cares for me enough to tell me the truth even if it hurts—someone like Bill Norrell. Bill was right about me. But you were ready to sacrifice me as Margaret Lee was sacrificed just to earn your fee as a talent scout, even if you knew my talent wouldn't last a year. Why, I'm not even as good as Margaret Lee was. I should have listened to Bill. And I will now—if he'll have me!"

She crossed to the lobby's phone booths, her heart skipping. She knew what she had to do; call Bill, apologize, tell him she'd given up going into pro-swimming, that she'd swim—to win—in the intercollegiate meet. Then her heart almost stopped as the phone rang on and on, unanswered.

Suddenly, on the other send, it clicked.

"B-Bill?" she began nervously.

Bill's voice at the other end sounded cold. But she had to go ahead anyhow and make him understand that she saw her mistake. She took a deep breath, as if she were about to dive into icy waters, and told Bill everything. Then waited.

Her face paled. Then it brightened suddenly. Then paled again. At last it glowed. It glowed the way it had when Bill first told her he loved her.

THE END

Skinny Girls Don't Have OOMPH!

It takes those extra lbs. of solid flesh to "bring out" your natural curves

If you're otherwise healthy but skinny, scrawny, rundown and lbs. underweight, try correcting this common mistake in eating.

THERE are three essential substances that many thin, scrawny and undernourished girls may fail to get in sufficient quantity from the food they eat. These substances are Vitamin $B_1$, calcium phosphate and iron. If, like thousands of others, you are underweight without organic cause . . . never seem to gain a pound . . . are so thin that you look gangling and gawky from insufficient amounts of these precious elements, don't get discouraged.

You may find that by correcting this simple mistake in eating you can easily add firm solid flesh . . . extra alluring pounds that help bring out those natural eye-catching curves. A simple and easy way is to try the amazing new product called Numal that supplies, in significant amounts, the Vitamin $B_1$, calcium phosphate and iron needed in the daily diet. Plus a food that in itself is a great help in adding extra pounds.

Take 1 heaping teaspoonful of Numal 3 times a day. It is pleasant, assimilable and easy to take. You will get the equivalent in Vitamin $B_1$ content of 34 cakes of average moist baker's yeast . . . the iron equivalent of 15 pounds of tomatoes or 12½ pounds of spinach or 9 pounds of boiled beets...and the calcium equivalent of ⅘ths pint of fresh cow's milk, the phosphorus content of 1 glass.

Remember, if you don't get a sufficient quantity of Vitamin $B_1$ in your daily diet, you may suffer loss of appetite. And without sufficient iron, the element that helps build rich red blood, you may be rundown, pale, weak and listless. You need calcium phosphate for sound teeth and sturdy bones.

SKINNY MEN ARE NOT ATTRACTIVE EITHER

. . . a skinny, scrawny body is no asset in social or business life. Give NUMAL a chance to build you up, put firm flesh on you.

Numal Must Please You or No Cost

So if you are skinny, gangling and bony from lack of these precious nutrients, don't wait any longer. Get Numal today. You will want those extra pounds that "bring out" your natural eye-catching curves. Take Numal faithfully for a week. See if you can't actually feel the difference . . . gain weight and better color. If after this short period you honestly don't feel Numal has benefited you, just return the bottle for a complete refund of your money. Numal costs but a few cents a day to use.

If loss of weight persists see your doctor

STOP crying about PIMPLES

AMAZING NEW TREATMENT FIGHTS PIMPLES* WITH FIRST APPLICATION

Yes, you can stop shedding tears over unsightly externally caused* pimples, acne and blackheads because here is a new method of complete skin care based on the most recent scientific knowledge of complexion problems.

We therefore make an offer so compelling that you cannot, in fairness to yourself, pass up the opportunity it presents.

This offer is made to those who are suffering from bad skin and are earnestly interested in enjoying a clearer—smoother—healthier-looking skin again.

To YOU we offer the fruits of our search for a formula, the best that science has developed for attacking common skin problems. Our experience has convinced us that the SEBASOL method is without equal in overcoming externally caused acne and pimples. We have therefore come to a decision—unprecedented, so far as we know, of taking all the risk ourselves.

YOU GET DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK

We believe the SEBASOL method of skin care is the greatest aid that has ever been offered to those interested in avoiding the misery of a bad skin. We can and do promise that after a 30-day trial you must see and enjoy a remarkable difference in your skin or we guarantee to refund not only the price you pay—but DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

We know we could not make this offer unless the SEBASOL complete treatment is all we say it is.

You want the clearest, smoothest and healthiest skin. That is your birthright. Study our guarantee. We take all the risk. You have the protection of DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK.

Sebasol Method Supported By Diverse Medical Opinions

Leading medical authorities differ on the importance of various contributing factors to externally caused acne and pimples.

These factors are: diet, vitamin deficiency, personal hygiene, occupational exposures and postural habits.

The Sebasol method recognizes the importance of all these contributing factors and each of them is an integral part of the Sebasol treatment.

The Sebasol method is not designed to relieve all skin disturbances, and is not prescribed to treat individual cases due to systemic causes. But, to our knowledge, the Sebasol method is the only complete treatment of its type offered to sufferers of common skin maladies. Until new facts are discovered, there is nothing known to science which can do more for the relief of bad skin.

ACT NOW BEFORE IT'S TOO LATE!

Neglect of acne can result in permanent scarring of your skin so act now! Take the first step—now—toward the good skin you desire. Fill out the coupon and mail—today—for a full 30-day supply. Price $3.00, only 10¢ a day. Isn't your skin worth the best?

Guarantee

This written guarantee entitles you not only to the return of the price paid for the Sebasol complete treatment but DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK unless you actually see and enjoy a remarkable improvement in your skin condition. The risk is at our risk. All you do is return the unused portion of the treatment if not completely satisfied.
